Course Title: Courageous Leadership
Course Code: BUS 228
Quarter: Spring 2016

Instructors Names:
Veronica Foster
Hala Kleinknecht

Course Objective:
The class sessions are designed to increase awareness and competency of your leadership skills through a dynamic synthesis of lectures, experiential exercises, reflection and group discussion. To get the most out of this course, you will be encouraged to define your own meaning of courage and discuss specific leadership development challenges you are facing relevant to each week’s session.

Through experiential practices, reflection, and group discussions, students will gain greater awareness about their authentic self and the courage to apply appropriate leadership styles in different situations.

Overall, you can expect:
• To develop and refine your skills and values as a leader by enhancing your awareness about your authentic self, which will help you be more confident and effective in business and in life.
• An opportunity to assess into your own leadership strengths and get personal feedback on areas to improve.
• An understanding of your “blind spots” to achieving personality integration, enabling the self-awareness needed in becoming a more effective leader.
• To become a more compassionate observer of your leadership style.
• To embrace the transformational process of change and growth while being in a curious state of self-discovery that will enable you to face challenging situations.

Course Schedule:
This is a 10-week course and will take place every Tuesday from 3/29/2016 through 5/31/16, from 7 PM to 8:50 PM. We will be available after each class for questions and between sessions via email. We will email you if there are any significant class changes or announcements.

Requirements for a Letter Grade and/or Credit:
You have three options:
• No Grade Requested (NGR), this is the default option. No written work is required.
• If you elect Credit/No Credit (CR/NC), attendance will determine your grade.
• If you elected to obtain a letter grade you will choose one objective and achievable goal that you’re able to complete in this course time. This goal will require you to face your fear and find your courage. The goal to be discussed and agreed upon with the instructor. You will also need to write a 3-page paper about your experience and present it to the class. Grade will be based 65% on completing your goal and 35% on class participation.
